

We offer two types of Self-Service Portals that allow you to get back to more important tasks:
Candidate Direct Portal and Volunteer Portal.

These services allow candidates to submit the required personal information themselves via a secure web-based portal, alleviating some of the effort involved in performing necessary background screenings.

CANDIDATE DIRECT PORTAL

Candidates submit the required personal information themselves via a secure web-based portal

VOLUNTEER PORTAL

Enable potential volunteers to submit required personal information themselves via a secure web-based portal

Besides removing yourself as the middle man, here are a few reasons why background screening self-service portals can make your life a whole lot better.

Self-Serve Portals Are Easy

The easy-to-use system provides a positive candidate experience that improves the likelihood of fast and complete responses.

You Save Time and Money with Self-Serve Portals

If you no longer own the task of gathering and entering candidate information, you can process more candidates faster and spend more time focusing on making the best hiring decisions.

Self-Serve Portals Provide Secure Results

We automatically perform the background searches and distribute the reports, providing quick online access to thorough and accurate results in the easy-to-navigate results center.

Remote Hiring

Easily and confidently conduct background screenings without the need for in-person meetings.

Keep You Compliant

Securely store and manage documents provided by Candidate Direct such as adverse letter correspondence and disclosure and authorization forms at the federal, state and local levels for your applicant to e-sign.
